

Intersec 2019 Dubai

Golmar participated from 20th to 22nd January at INTERSEC 2019. Intersec is one of the most important shows in the region for commercial security products.

Golmar showcased in this edition the latest technologies available in the Intercom field, like the Beoview range and its new Beoview APP for Android and iOS. With Beoview App it is possible to establish a communication between the door panel and your smartphone, allowing to know who is calling and to open the door*.

Another product line shown is the Plus system, one of the most sophisticated digital BUS with a long tradition and hundreds of projects completed in the Gulf countries. Plus system is still one of the most sold technologies in condominiums and large installations.

For the small buildings the GB2 technology is the simplest option. GB2 is a 2 wires system, characterized for a complete range of hands-free video monitos and audio units with or without handset. GB2 is the low cost solution with boosted features, chosen in most of the residential medium sized projects.

One of the most important introductions in this edition was the Soul kit range. A new video kit with a 7 inch screen offering App connectivity. A state of the art video kit, composed by a stylish door entry panel and a 7 inch monitor wifi ready, the model Art7 W. it is possible to complete the range of this kit with a 4,3 inch hands-free monitor Art 4. Soul 7 wifi kit offers the possibility to be connected to the cloud, by using the G2Call app you will be able to get connected to the house entry station, receive calls and open the door remotely through 4G networks*.
